Senior Class History

On a clear cool day in the fall of 1950 we started our high school career. As president we chose Joyce Brandt, with James Kreter as vice-president. Donald Collier was secretary and Frank Copeland, treasurer. Gene Ringeisen was Sergeant of Arms. Along with these officers we chose Mr. Harold Autry, sponsor and Mr. M. M. Morgan co-sponsor. Our candidate for basketball queen was Violet Heyer. High School was a new and challenging experience, but we were willing to face it. In spite of our greenness we soon caught on to the high school way of life.

Our second year was another challenge, but an experience long to be remembered. To guide us through the year we chose Laura Wacker, president and elected Amos Paneitz, vice-president. Phyllis Landwehr was secretary and Ivan Krueger, treasurer. Violet Heyer was Sergeant of Arms. To sponsor us for the year we chose Mr. Charles Tometie as our sponsor and Mr. Paul Brattstrom as co-sponsor. This year we had a total of forty-seven students. We elected to support Laura Wacker as our class candidate for basketball queen.

Our junior year found the class playing a big part in school athletics, plays, and music. For our officers we elected Richard Rousset as president; Davy Dyhouse was vice-president; as secretary we elected Bob Matthews, and Aiolph Kneehans was treasurer. Jeanie Pate was made Sergeant of Arms. Sponsors were: Mr. J. E. Brown, sponsor and Mr. Morris Gutmann, co-sponsor. Our Junior play, through the hard work of our sponsors and class, turned out to be a very commendable success. Our queen candidate for that year was Joyce Bledsoe, whom we are proud to say won the nomination. At the end of our Junior year we selected the editor of the Dutchman for the following year. She was Shirley Steffen, and Judy Enke was co-editor. By this time we were well on our way through high school, and had began to realize that it takes lots of hard work and perseverance to become a success.

The final step of our high school career had at last arrived. We were Seniors. For some it was the final step in education, for others it was only a step from high school to college. To guide us through our last big step, we chose Ivan Krueger as president, and Davy Dyhouse as vice-president. Shirley Steffen was secretary and treasurer was Joyce Bledsoe. Sponsors for the year were Mr. Leslie Spurgeon and Miss Violet Schaeperkoetter. Our candidate for basketball queen was Judy Enke. Along with our Senior year there was a constant flurry of excitement over rings, pictures, invitations, etc. Although we spent four years here, we feel that no effort has been wasted and that it will leave a lasting impression on our lives.

The Dutchman Staff was elected at the beginning of school and had a hard time getting started, but we finally caught on to how it was done. Ivan Krueger and Richard Rousset wrote the class prophecy. Davy Dyhouse and Doc Collier wrote the class will and Ronald Weiskopf and Melvin Berkemeyer were the authors of the class history. Jeanie Pate and Joyce Bledsoe were kept busy drawing pictures. Dorothy Blaue, Judy Enke and Shirley Steffen did the typing and helped with the pictures.

The Staff wishes to thank Miss Schaeperkoetter for her help and co-operation in helping us to get started and to the completion of the "Dutchman."
